

The Planets—An HD Odyssey
February 4, 2012

A Special Encore Performance
at Grace Community Church

$5 off all tickets—use promo code 9985

On February 17th and 18th the Houston Symphony will premiere at Jones Hall Orbit—An HD Odyssey the long-awaited sequel to The Planets—An HD Odyssey. Before you join us for the sequel, see where it all began as the Houston Symphony and Grace Community Church present an encore performance of The Planets—An HD Odyssey.

Join Music Director, Hans Graf, the Houston Symphony and the Women of the Houston Symphony Chorus at Grace Community's South Campus on February 4, 2012 for this out-of-this-world presentation.

Experience a powerful performance of composer Gustav Holst's The Planets paired with an HD film from NASA's latest exploration of the solar system. On two giant screens you'll see stunning images from the Mars Rovers and past probe missions Magellan, Voyager and Galileo as the Houston Symphony performs Holst's glorious musical score.

The Planets—An HD Odyssey
February 4, 2012 7:00 PM

Grace Community Church, South Campus
14505 Gulf Freeway Houston, TX 77034

Hans Graf, conductor
Duncan Copp, producer/director
Women of the Houston Symphony Chorus
Charles Hausmann, director
Holst: The Planets

Tickets from $10-$35

Visit houstonsymphony.org or call the Houston Symphony Patron Services Center at (713) 224-7575 and use promotion code 9985 to receive $5 off your tickets to this performance.